

CANCER: I FEEL

Education, Truth, and Justice

Since the beginning of the pandemic, March of 2020, Saturn plowed through your house of death and transformation, and indeed, your archetype of the healers and healthcare providers were crowned the superheroes and heroines of the age. You have learned how to let go, find your passion, and cut away from whatever obstacles prevented your growth.

In the first two months of the year, you will seal the lessons of Saturn in your house of sexuality, other people's money and talent, and death, therefore, anything you still need to say goodbye to, you must release before March 7. From March 7, Saturn, the Lord Karma and Grand Teacher, will move into your house of travel, foreign cultures, education, mass-media, and truth.

For the next three years you will be asked to become a student and educator, an explorer, a traveler, and an adventurer. I know, it is not easy for you, most of these things would require you to come out of your comfort zone, your shell, and boldly go where no Cancer had gone before. But it is all for a good cause. You now are asked to decide what does your career require you to learn to enhance your career and professional life.

Saturn in the house of justice asks you to pursue the truth, walk the talk, and live by your own philosophy. You might even change some of your values or follow a new perspective of life. Be open to adjusting your creed to the sign of the time. Last time Saturn was in this house was 1993 – 1996. You can go back to those years and see what you were asked to assimilate, learn, and study at that time. In addition, Saturn might want you to examine your relationship with in-laws, teachers, and students.

If there are messages you wish to share with the world, Saturn traveling through your house of mass media and teaching can help you spread the word. It is also a good time to relocate to a foreign country, take on a new degree, or learn a language.

From March, Pluto is moving back and forth between your house of relationships to the house of death and transformation. This is intense and can create some challenges with partners in work or in life as well as issues with your intimate relationships. As you can see, while Saturn leaves the house of death, Pluto, the Lord of Death, is entering that house until January 2044.

Your transformation is taken to the next level. It is time to honor your need for intimacy, privacy, and access your true potential. You are a Moon child, and as such, the eclipses are always super important.

From July for 18 months the eclipses are shifting signs, quickening processes that relate to career and home and family. Now, here lies the rub. You as a Cancer value home and family the most, but from July the South Node enters your house of home and family, which means it is time to let go of what your family or even your genetics expect from you. I am not suggesting that you should abandon your family.

That would be almost impossible for a Cancer, but it is recommended to focus more on your career and your professional life and find ways to share your gifts with humanity. This is supported by Jupiter who travels in your house of career in the first five months of the year, preparing the road for success in your chosen path.

Uranus continues the awakening he started in 2018 with your friends, communities, and companies and will continue doing so until 2026. However, from May of 2023, Jupiter enters your house of friends, hopes, and wishes granted. That is great since you can recreate your tribe and clan.

From mid-May Jupiter will increase your circle of friends, add fans, clients, and improve your standing in your community for a whole year. This is an exciting time of finding fortunes and success from altruism, volunteering, and connecting to your fellow human beings. It is also a good time for connecting to your digital friends
