

SAGITTARIUS: I SEE

My Love

Saturn, the Lord Karma, has been walking in your house of communication, business, contacts, contracts, siblings, and relatives since March of 2020, the onset of the pandemic. Saturn likes to fix things and in the first two months of 2023 he finalizes the reconstruction of your house of communication, helping you figure out what is your message, who your target audience is for the next 30 years, and what is the best way to deliver this message.

Come March 7, Saturn is changing signs and for the next three years will be transiting in Pisces which is the sign ruling your house of home and family. As a fire mutable sign, it is not easy for you to handle a Pisces Saturn transit since he will be squaring your Sun, forcing you into actions you rather not take. If you are born in the first part of Sagittarius, November 23 – 30 you will feel that pressure more than the rest of your tribe.

Last time Saturn was restructuring your place of residence, your family, and your emotions was 1993 – 1996. You can go back to that time and see what lessons Saturn tried to teach back then so you can be better prepared. Saturn in the house of your abode means you must slow down and feel, emote, and experience your inner world. I know you would rather have an adventure and conquer new intellectual realms, but the next three years are encouraging you to settle down and decide where and with whom you would like to live.

These are years for investing in real estate, becoming a parent, and focusing on the issues that your family members might be going through. Since you also have Neptune in the house of home, be careful from floods, emotional and physical. However, you can also invest in improving your kitchen and bathroom or wherever water flows. It is also a great time to travel to sacred places and create one in your home as in an altar.

While Saturn leaves your house of communication, two weeks later, Pluto, the Lord of Transformation, is moving into that house for the first time in 250 years. As you can see, the transformation and focus on your words, your logos continues. However, this is a long transition that will take over two decades. There also could be changes with your relatives, especially siblings and their children. With Saturn in your house of home and Pluto in your house of relatives, you are truly asked to focus on your clan.

Pluto in your house of communication can tempt you to control or manipulate messages and words, be careful. Pluto could also make you obsessive about certain subjects. To overcome that, it will be great to learn a new language, as well as submerge yourself in research and deep learning. The good news is that Pluto is leaving your house of money and self-worth where he has been since the Great Recession, so financially things can get more stable.

Since August of 2022 until March 2023 Mars is causing havoc in your house of relationships. This could have caused a great deal of strife but also passion with your primary relationships. From January 14 as Mars goes direct, things can improve and return to normal.

Now for some good news. Jupiter, your ruler who loves you, will be in Aries, a fellow fire sign, for the first five and a half months of the year. This transit could bless you with love, happiness, creativity, fun, and a potential romance or even a kid. Your inner child, the performer, and creative will blossom.

From mid-May, Jupiter will move into your house of work, health, diet, and routine, bringing countless opportunities for healing as well as success in work. You can expect a promotion, hiring new employees, and improved relationships with coworkers. Make sure you don't slack on your diet and succumb to temptations of the hedonistic kind.
