

VIRGO: I SERVE

My Significant Others

Since the beginning of the pandemic, March 2020, Saturn, the Lord Karma, has been asking you to fix your diet, the way you serve, and how to manage your work. We all needed you Virgos, rulers of health and healing, during the pandemic. In the first two months of the year, you are graduating the school of service and will be ready to have Saturn transit into your opposite sign, Pisces, and into your house of relationship and marriage.

From 2023 – 2026 Saturn will help you break away from unbalanced partnerships, wrong relationships, and patterns that prevent you from finding your true match. However, in January and February of 2023, you are still asked to make the final push to improve your diet, health, and routine.

The last time Saturn was fixing your relationship and marriage was between 1993 – 1996. It is recommended to harken back to those years and see what Saturn tried to teach you at that time. Saturn will place mirrors in front of you, these reflectors would be in the shape of partners in work or in life, as well as an occasional enemy or competitor, in order to better understand yourself and improve your life.

If you have a partner, you will be reassessing how you manage the relationship, some of you Virgos will get divorced, others would find opportunities in these challenges to strengthen the bond and take the relationship to a whole new level. If you don't have a partner in work or life, there is a high chance you will find someone significant, but the relationship could demand a great deal of work in order to succeed.

Since Jupiter, the giver of gifts, will be in your house of intimacy and sexuality until mid-May, he can help you transform your primary relationships and infuse them with intimacy. In fact, you will find your sexual drive and passion heightened. You will also be in a position to tap into magic, healing abilities, occult, research capacities and access to the world beyond.

Jupiter in the house of sexuality and death (January – May) will help you let go of things that obstruct your growth and keep you from reaching your true potential. In the first months of the year, you could benefit from investments, inheritance, and working with other people's money and talents.

From mid-May, Jupiter will move into Taurus, a fellow earth sign, and into your house of travel and education and will stay there for 12 months. That is great news, you will feel like you can spread your wings and fly intellectually as well as physically to different cultures and traditions. If you ever wanted to learn a new language, get a degree, or undertake any other form of education, go for it. In addition, your teaching abilities could expand and you will find opportunities to be a consultant or mentor.

Just make sure you are being authentic and hold on to your truth.

The North Node will be blessing the same houses as Jupiter but in reverse. In the first half of the year the Dragon continues to help you focus on education and travel, blessing any interaction with foreigners and educators. From July the North Node will move into your house of sexuality, passion, and transformation, and enable you to go into the Underworld, your shadow, to retrieve hidden gifts.

The Last time the Dragon was in that house was between 2005 and 2006. Indeed, this year is all about shedding and removing obstacles. The North Node or Dragon can increase your passion and help you attract people, money, and skills.

Pluto, as you have read in the intro will be shifting into Aquarius from March 24 until June 11 and settle in your house of work. As you can see, your services, dedication, and organising skills are still needed from your clan.

This means that the way you do your work, and how you deal with your routine and diet will go through a long-term and deep transformation that happens once in 250 years! In 2023 you will just get a sample of it and this transition will continue all the way to 2044.

Some of you will change your job sectors, some will become vegetarians or vegans, and maybe assume your role as a healing shaman, no matter what your profession is.
